Philadelphia, June 14 (AP) — Republican Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania said tonight that "economic fascists in the seats of the mighty" in Washington are planning a "New Order" in the United States after the war.

Martin, in an address prepared for Flag Day exercises in Independence Hall, averred that the report of the National Resources Planning Board is "the holy book of the new American order" and said it proposes "the system whereby our economic fascists hope to control every step taken by Americans from their cradle to their graves."

"We are submitting to wartime regimentation so we may destroy regimentation in the world," he added, but "these powerful groups of politica-social planners plan to use our wartime economy as the pattern for a peacetime economy."
